DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-38 are drawn to a substituted 4-aminocyclohexanol compound.

Group II, claim(s) 39-40 are drawn to a method of alleviating pain in a mammal.

Group III, claim(s) 41 is drawn to a method of treating or inhibiting anxiety states, stress and stress-associated syndromes, depression, epilepsy, Alzheimer's disease, senile dementia, general cognitive dysfunctions, learning and memory difficulties, withdrawal symptoms, alcohol abuse or dependency, drug abuse or dependency, sexual dysfunction, cardiovascular disease, hypotension, hypertension, tinnitus, pruritus, migraine, impaired hearing, deficient intestinal motility, impaired food intake, anorexia, obesity, locomotor disorders, diarrhea, cachexia or urinary incontinence in a mammal, said method comprising administering to said mammal an effective amount of a compound according to claim 1 or coadministering to said mammal an effective amount of a compound according to claim 1 with an opioid analgesic or with an anesthetic

Group IV, claim(s) 42 is drawn to a method of providing a nootropic, muscle relaxant, anticonvulsive, antitussive, anesthetic, antinatriuresis, or for causing diuresis or anxiolysis, said method comprising the step of administering to a patient in need thereof an effective amount of a compound according to claim 1 or coadministering to said mammal an effective amount of a compound according to claim 1 with an opioid analgesic or with an anesthetic.

Group V, claim(s) 43-53 is drawn to a process for producing a substituted 4-aminocyclohexanol compound.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking the species is the core compound of formula I. However, Lednicer (US 4,366,172) teaches the same core structure that is in the instant claims. Therefore, there is lack of unity a posteriori because the technical feature linking the species does not define a contribution over the prior art.

Art Unit: 1609

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A substituted 4-aminocyclohexanol compound corresponding to formula I.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to disclose fully defined compound for Formula I, in which each R variable, R^1 , R^2 , R^3 , R^4 , etc., is disclosed, such that a fully disclosed compound is presented for examination, to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

They all comprise a substituted 4-aminocyclohexanol compound corresponding to formula I.

5. The following claim(s) are generic: 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature linking the species is the core compound of formula I. However, Lednicer (US 4,366,172) teaches the same core structure that is in the instant claims. Therefore, there is lack of unity a posteriori because the technical feature linking the species does not define a contribution over the prior art.

Conclusion

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
